

CLAYTON SMALLEY

Utah Based Country Artist

BIO

Country artist Clayton Smalley is the epitome of Merle Haggard's "Working Man Blues". Other than the nine kids Merle references, the song could be the Spanish Fork, Utah based singer-songwriter's autobiography. A welder by trade, Clayton, a blue collar family man, is a throwback to when artists balanced the responsibilities of working, helping provide for a family, and pursuing a passion for music. Born and raised in Southern California, Clayton grew up listening to artists like George Strait, Keith Whitley and Reba McEntire, which galvanized his love of traditional country music and helped define his own style. Outside of music you can find Clayton fishing the lakes of Utah for Rainbow and Cutthroat trout or hunting in the Nebo mountains.

Clayton recently performed at the Rocky Mountain Country Music Awards where he was nominated for New Artist of the Year.

WHISKEY SUNRISE - DEBUT RELEASE

Released Nov. 1, 2019, Clayton Smalley's Whiskey Sunrise debuted at #11 on the iTunes Country Albums chart and received editorial feature on both the iTunes and Apple Music country main pages.

RADIO SINGLE – These Boots Were Made to Dance

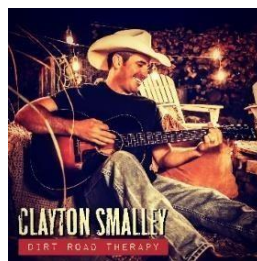

Released June 4, 2021, Clayton Smalley's most recent radio single, "These Boots Were Made to Dance," is a collaboration with Kentucky singer/songwriter Timothy Baker. The song peaked at #8 on the CDX Traction True Indie Chart and #42 on the MusicRow Country Breakout Chart.

STREAMING

Over 1.5 Million streams across all streaming platforms.

NEW EP DIRT ROAD THERAPY AND MUSIC VIDEO

Click to Listen

Released November 20th 2020, Dirt Road Therapy, debuted at #6 on the US and #3 on UK iTunes Country Albums Chart. The EP features four songs co-written with Grammy nominated hit songwriter, Steve Dean. The music video for the title cut was shot outside of Spanish Fork, Utah and features drone shots of the Nebo Mountains. The video follows Clayton, a real life concrete and welding inspector, from an actual job site to a mountain top grand vista to capture an evening sunset.

YNR MANAGEMENT
NASHVILLE, TN
 Contact: John Griffin
griffinmusic@comcast.net
 615-500-3676

DIRT ROAD THERAPY – EP
FEATURED ON ITUNES COUNTRY
MAIN PAGE

New Music See All

From an Old Guitar: Rare... Dave Alvin	Dirt Road Therapy - EP Clayton Sm...	Won't Have Far to Go Paul Bogart	The Highway Kind Josh Abbott...

#6 ON ITUNES COUNTRY ALBUMS CHART

5		McGraw Machine Hits: 2013-2019 Tim McGraw ★★★★☆ (4)	$9.99
6		Dirt Road Therapy - EP Clayton Smalley ★★★★☆ (4)	PURCHASED
7		Nashlahoma The Swon Brothers ★★★★☆ (4)	$9.99
8		What You See Ain't Always What You Get (D... Luke Combs ★★★★☆ (702)	$14.99

